

The Foundation has been asked many times about :

Won cases against CPS, the names of clients with whom we have worked, restored children to protective parents, etc.

Filed complaints against practitioners who cover for pedophiles and untrained/poorly trained professionals who cover the secrets of abusers who seek custody to protect secrets through pay-offs, power and influence.

We have been asked the names of our board members and staff

As much as we would love to brag about our numerous victories – not only restoring children to families but also:

Filing complaints against judges,
Corrupt lawyers
Corrupt mental health practitioners
Closing down fraudulent rehabilitation centers that use vulnerable,
Isolated individuals to use in work force contracts – advertised as “life skills activities” as opposed to slave labor and or trafficking

Filing complaints to Medicaid and government agencies against foster care agencies who are medicating children as part of medical testing

Filing complaints against foster care agencies that open medical clinics in false corporate names to double dip in medical reimbursement fees

Filing complaints to medical boards against medical staff who file false reports against parents who bring children to emergency rooms for accidents in exchange for the bonuses and accommodations they receive for such actions

Filing complaints against staff on maternity wards who report new mothers as having “potential” risks that may place their children in jeopardy. The staff members can have infants removed from parents immediately after birth as infants can be easily placed for adoption which earn federal adoption funds

We report police misconduct

We report child abuse, domestic violence and all forms of court based corruption

We also praise those practitioners that we admire and respect

We publish, we engage in speaking, we represent vulnerable populations

We will never, under any circumstances use our clients to promote our own interests as advertising tools or expose our clients to the retaliation of the courts and the extensive resources of the courts to

Track down and exact retribution

We will not advertise the expertise of our board members and advisory board members so that they do not become targets of judicial adversarial retribution in the form of lies, harrassment, threats by government officials

We do provide references and resumes of experts who are directly involved in the litigation process of our clients
